The state of Kentucky has developed several tools to help you transfer your coursework more easily. Your advisor can help you select a tool that best suits your academic needs:

The General Education Transfer Policy

If you are just starting or returning to school and haven't decided on a major, check out the General Education Transfer Policy. With proper course planning, this policy allows you to transfer general education courses to any public university in Kentucky—without losing credits.

Transfer Frameworks

If you have identified an area of study, a transfer framework may be right for you. Transfer frameworks guarantee that at least 60 hours of coursework will transfer to any public university in Kentucky offering your chosen degree.

Completer, 2 + 2 and Applied Associate Agreements

Some institutions have developed special transfer arrangements that allow students who complete an associate degree to transfer credits to a bachelor's degree program at a public university in Kentucky. Options are available for students with an associate or applied associate degree. Check with your advisor or go to www.ky.transfer.org for more information.

Online Bachelor's Degrees

If you have an associate degree but your job or busy lifestyle is keeping you from pursuing a bachelor's degree, there are programs from some of the state's top universities that you can complete online. To see what associate degrees transfer completely to online bachelor's degree programs, go to www.kyvu.org.

The Course Applicability System (CAS)

An online course planning system is available to all students, anytime, anywhere! Log on to www.ky.transfer.org to begin planning what classes to take and see how your coursework will transfer.
